MR. DENSON; DEDICATED, DETERMINED AND NOTEWORTHY

This year the Yearbook staff has chosen a man who is really dedicated to teaching his students. We have chosen Leon M. Denson for our 1987-1988 yearbook dedication. Let's take a step "back in time" to look at his past. After graduating from OHS in 1955, he went on to Samford University to continue his education. Mr. Denson started working on his Bachelor of Arts degree and received it in 1958, and then got his Masters in 1960. After college he came back to OHS Mr. Denson has been teaching government and economics at Oxford for twenty-four years now and we hope he plans to teach for many more years.

Mr. Denson also has his own personal interests, like all of us. You wouldn't think he would be the kind of guy that would love exotic cars, but he does. If you were to go into his room you would see two beautiful cars that will catch your attention quickly. These two cars are a Porsche and a Lamborghini. Mr. Denson claims these automobiles are his, but I just don't know if we can believe that. He also has an interest in pictures of famous buildings such as the White House, Pentagon, Congress buildings, and many more. Mr. Denson is really up-to-date with his clothing, you would never see him in an outfit that does not show professionalism.

Mr. Denson has many friends on and off campus. The faculty is appreciative of what he has done and is doing at OHS with his teaching. We, the students, are also grateful for what he has done to make government interesting.

After undergoing open heart surgery in the summer of "87", and a semester at home to recuperate, Mr. Denson came back bringing to us a new appreciation of his subject.

Moments In Time

The doors flew open, the students flooded into the halls, and another school year began. But this year would be different since OHS started a week earlier than other area schools. This may seem trivial, but for the seniors of '88 this meant they would be "P.C. Bound" a week ahead of everyone else.

Additional features included: an earlier homeroom that started before first period instead of following second, new science labs, and a much needed library. The business department received new computers which were unique in that there were none like them in other schools throughout the state. Last, but not least, during the first football game the band assumed their position on the field wearing new uniforms which gave their performance an added touch.

An undercurrent of excitement came along with the beginning of football season. A pep club was formed to cheer our team on to victory. Our defense took on the catchy name "Black Death", while the offense became the "Yellow Jacket Moving Company".

Homecoming came and the usual festivities took place. The seniors had their parade, with no reported accidents. The big night arrived, and Ginger Cruse and Gina Turner walked off the field wearing the crowns. The only disappointment resulting from Homecoming 1987 was our 21-20 loss to Alexandria.

The next event was Senior Night. The seniors had another parade, making them the first class to have had two early-morning parades in one year. At the pep rally, the senior walk-through proved, as usual, to be an emotional experience. Mrs. Martin read the class poem, making the seniors realize that their time "on the hill" was almost gone. Kelly Derusha was voted team sponsor and Senior Night went down in the books as a big success, thanks to our 21-7 victory over Jacksonville.

Who's Who came and everyone was in a rush setting up the perfect picture corner and getting the materials to prepare the gym for the night that was ahead. When the moment finally arrived everyone found the gym floor completely covered with plastic. Its purpose was apparent (the new gym floor was not to be scratched) but it also caused many near spills to the ground. The students were presented their honors, and needless to say this was another event that came off with no flaws!

These were only a few of the many Moments In Time we have trapped for you; turn the page for more.

Moments pass, time moves on, but

CONSTITUTION DAY

1987 was the 200th year of the ratification of the Constitution. O.H.S. celebrated this occasion with two contests. The first was a week long trivia contest for ALL Oxford students, but someone didn't tell Trey Hanner that it was for everyone. He won the contest several days in a row, and won several different prizes. Contest number two was a door decorating contest for all the homerooms. Mrs. Adcock's homeroom took the gold in this event. The students and faculty also had a visit by Alabama Secretary of State, Glen Browder. He spoke on the true American Spirit, and what the Constitution does for us, the students of O.H.S. Other personalities involved in the celebration were; Donald Holmes, State Senator District 22; Brenda Reaves, representing the Board of Education; Mayor Smith; Mr. Higgins; and Dr. Griffin, speaking for Mr. Cassidy, Superintendent of Oxford City Schools. The ceremony was held on the football field and the students, dressed in red, white, and blue, watched intently as the Military Police Honor Guard, presented the flag. The SGA officers spoke during the ceremony and Gidget Barker sang the "Star Spangled Banner." Scott Batey, President of FCS closed the program with a prayer of thanksgiving, and the band played patriotic songs while multitudes of red, white, and blue balloons were released into the breeze.

Homecoming 1987

As Homecoming week rolled around, excitement filled the air. Homerooms began decorating their doors while classes started preparing their floats. Candidates for Homecoming queen were announced, and the week was underway. The after-school hours were not spent doing homework by most, but instead, students met at their designated headquarters where they put forth great effort to prepare "the greatest Homecoming float ever." The seniors worked especially hard on their float, only to wake up the morning of the parade to find it trashed. Several seniors took a "leave of absence" from school in order to restore the float to its original appearance.

At the game it was announced that the seniors had taken first place among all the other floats. Thursday afternoon the parade made its way through downtown Oxford. Some special appearances were made by Batman and Robin. Not only was the senior float escorted by self-appointed "float protectors" but, we got a glimpse of some of our very own gentlemen "filling in" for Alexandria's Homecoming Court.

Friday morning's agenda consisted of a Senior Parade, an earlier pep rally, where Opus I put us "in the mood". During battle cry, the gym was completely rolled with toilet paper streamers hanging from the rafters on the ceiling. But the main attraction was Friday night at the game. Gina Turner was crowned Miss Homecoming, and Ginger Cruise was crowned Jr. High Miss Homecoming. The excitement was deluted some-what after the game, for our team felt the agony of defeat after their lose of 21-20 to Alexandria. Following the game the excitement was renewed for our dance was once again a Friday night success.

The winning logos will be shown across the state, and some will be incorporated in an official theme for the Alabama Reunion. The winners were handed signed certificates by Gov. # HERE THEY COME

Tiina Kalliomaki

This year at Oxford, we received a colorful group of exchange students. We had two students from Guatemala that stayed a little over a month during our Christmas season. These two were Sandy Valdez and Karla Quan. Oxford also had Tiina Kalliomaki, an exchange student from Finland. She came in the summer of eighty-seven and stayed the entire year.

Sandy and Karla got to see how Americans live, but Tiina, by staying a year, got the pleasure of becoming an American teenager. She became involved in many different activities. She went to school and took the same classes that many of our seniors did. She played soccer and basketball here at Oxford. Tiina attended our Prom and also went through our graduation ceremonies.

Each of them were given an experience that they will never forget. And each of them gave us an experience that we will never forget.

New Additions in Science

Oxford High School can be proud of a great new addition this year. We now have science labs, thanks to funds sent to us by the state, which are used by biology, chemistry and physics. The construction started this summer and about midway through the year it was completed and well worth the wait.

The new labs have many uses. They are used by chemistry to experiment with chemicals and elements, biology uses them to dissect and examine organisms with microscopes, and physics use them to conduct laser experiments. We hope to receive additional funds so that we may add to our lab and make it high-tech.

We the students and faculty, should be very proud that we are among a few who are fortunate enough to have such a facility. Please, show our OHS pride when using it. Let's take care of it, enjoy it, and protect it.

YELLOW JACKETS

Here come the Jackets!

The Jackets Score!

Just wait 'till next time!

"We're #1", says Shelton Hannah

The BLACK DEATH defense closes in.

Bobby Tranthum attends to Jason Troup on the sideline.

Chris Houston and Shannon Payne wait to go in.

The 1987 Oxford Yellow Jacket football season took Oxford fans on a wild ride. This team was balanced both offensively and defensively. The bone crushing "Black Death" defense destroyed all its opposing offenses. Oxford tied a state record by shutting out four teams in a row. While the "Black Death" defense was killing offenses, Oxford's "Moving Company" launched a massive ground, and air attack which was almost unstoppable by opposing defenses.

This year began with high hopes, but Oxford suffered a heart-breaking overtime loss to Pell City in its season opener. The season looked bad, but Oxford pulled all they had together and began an awesome winning streak. They shut out Anniston, Tallagega, Heflin, and Fort Payne. Just when the season was looking good, Oxford had a shocking loss to Alexandria and then to Saks. Now Oxford needed to win the rest of its games to get into the playoffs. Oxford came through by winning against Wellborn in double overtime and winning against Jacksonville in our final regular season game. Oxford, made it to the playoffs but was put out in the first round by Pell City, concluding the 1987 winning season.

The Jacket offence moves forward.

I am sure everyone will remember Oxford's 21 to 7 victory over Jacksonville on October 30. It was quite a game. All the players had worked extra hard for this special night. Why? Because it was senior night.

Senior night is a night for the recognition of all the senior football players. This was their last football game at O.H.S. therefore, we ask each senior player to choose a girl to sponsor him. This year we have decided to have the escorts pictured with the sponsor and the player.

Team sponsor Kelly Derusha had some special thoughts about senior night:

"Being selected senior sponsor of THE Oxford High School Football Team will be the memory I will look back on and remember most. I never suspected or even guessed that I would be chosen for Senior Sponsor. It was indeed an honor.

Our Senior class may seem to have their own little groups or cliques, but we are always ready to lend a helping hand to the ones who need it. We will soon graduate and have only the memories of O.H.S. but, these times are the best times of our lives. I would like to wish everyone in this years graduating class the best of luck in starting their new lives. Most of us need it! O.H.S. will always be #1 in our hearts.

This year's varsity squad did an outstanding job on the field, at summer camp, on the court and in the competitions they entered.

At summer camp in Auburn they placed in the top five out of seventy squads attending. At OHS football games, pep rallies, and basketball games they were there to support the Jackets with signs and cheers. They won the State Fair Competition in Montgomery and the ICF Regional Competition in Vincent, AL.

At the IOCC Nationals in December, they placed fifth in the nation and were named the squad with best jumps.

At OHS cheerleading is an honor and a privilege. They are proud to wear the Gold and Black.

The Oxford High School Baseball team had a very successful year. The season began with the Calhoun County Baseball Tournament, in which Oxford won first place. The next major achievement was the Area 12 title. Winning the area guaranteed the team a place in the state play-offs. However, a trip to Pinson Valley proved disappointing.

Gary Mason and Pete Mackey were elected by their teammates as most valuable players and team captains. Mackey was also the recipient of the Golden Glove Award. Ray Whiteside received the Big Stick Award with a batting average of .525. Mike Watts received the Most Improved Player Award.

Since my first year as a member of F.C.S., the club's membership has tripled. Perhaps the growth was because of the many projects we started; perhaps it was due to the positive leadership our club promoted; perhaps it was because F.C.S. provided fellowship and activities of a Christian nature, with a Christian atmosphere. Regardless of the reason, we're just glad it did.

During the year, F.C.S. sponsored many activities, including morning devotionals, in which all students were invited to participate, supplying the lounges with refreshments for the teachers, Christmas caroling for the senior citizens at Wesley Apartments, and participating in the March of Dimes walkathon. Again, our most successful project was the "Secret Pals." This project gave the teachers, as well as the students something to look forward to during the year, and it created positive teacher/student relations. F.C.S. activities were concluded at the end of the year when we gave a tea where each teacher met their "Secret Pal."

MATH CLUB Row 1: S. Batey, D. Deshler, S. King, K. Reid, P. Ware, Row 2: Mrs. Phillips-sponsor, C. Austin, M. Rhodes, L. Padgett, J. Taylor, J. Pettus.

The students who participate in our schools various math teams work very hard to compete in math competitions. These students come to school early in the morning to practice and to be drilled on their math skills. This is done to sharpen their edge on the competition of other schools.

This year, the math teams competed in four different interscholastic competitions. They competed at Vestavia, Samford, Jacksonville, and Grissom Schools. The team members competed in both individual and team events and had very successful results.

A special congratulations goes to Jason Burnam, who won the MATHCOUNTS competition at Jacksonville.

The Math Club is designed to give students a broader view of the math used in the world, today. This club is open to all students who are taking higher level mathematics at Oxford. The Math Clubs members meet about once a month to do various activities dealing with math. This year they talked to different engineers and visited the Stringfellow Hospital chemical lab in some of their activities.

GANCEL: STRIVING TO BE THE BEST

Gancel is an organization of civic-minded young women, who wish to help the community. Each member must pledge to uphold the principles of caring, sharing, understanding and friendship. This pledge is upheld through several annual activities, such as Special Olympics and the Christmas party for needy children. In addition, Gancel collected donations for the Southern Plantation Girls Home.

In May of each year, a meeting for all interested girls is held. Then, after a lot of questioning, new members are selected. Following a grueling day of initiation, each new member is inducted and is "adopted" by an old member.

EL CLUB DE ESPANOL

The 1987-88 school year was full of activity for the Spanish Club. At the beginning of the year, they held a picnic at Oxford Lake. This picnic included an exciting scavenger hunt. In October, the membership drive was on. A combination Halloween/membership party took place at the Cheaha Clubhouse, and everyone who wanted to join the club performed skits for the old members. The students involved in the winning skit were excused from participating in the initiation. At 7:00 the following week, all of the new members were initiated, including sign language for anyone who spoke it.

The 1987-88 Oxford FFA Chapter has for its objective the "Superior Chapter Award." In order to achieve this goal certain qualifications must be met, and we work hard throughout the year to reach this goal. During September, the 1987-88 officers were installed. In October, the FFA Chapter participated in the Fall Festival at Oxford Middle School, and conducted their annual poinsettia sell. December and January are planning months for National FFA Week, which is February 21-27. Spring is always full of activities and preparation for District Competition and State Convention. The FFA hopes this page has made you more aware of their activities, and that you can see growth as they work and share in our community's progress.

EDITOR: Jennifer Pettus

This year, for the 1988 Yearbook staff, was a unique one that will probably never happen again! Our year started in July when the new staff went to the University of Alabama for the Taylor Publishing Workshop. During the day the new and the old staffers went to seminars and during the nights, parties were thrown. The staff was housed in the Tutwiler dorm with all the other high school staffs from around the state. Members of the OHS yearbook staff headed by Lee and Shannon threw a pizza party for the fourth and fifth floor that soon will not be forgotten by the University staff.

The school year began and the staff eagerly started going on ad sales. This year, sales were at an all time high with David Deshler and Jeremy White as the top sales team.

Deadline times came and went and sometimes didn't work out too well, but our fearless editor and our sponsor pulled things together and we never missed our date.

The staff held our annual pizza party at Pizza Hut and there was plenty of food and free time to "let down" after our first big deadline. The year went smooth for the staff and Mrs. Nelson's nerves are still in tact. This year that staff was one of many diverse personalities as you will observe as you turn the pages of our TIME TRAPPER.

A NEW HOME IN A CENTRAL AREA

One of Oxford High School's new editions this year is our library. It took a while for construction to end and furniture, to arrive, but it was well worth the wait. Being in the middle of campus, it is convenient for everyone to use. The library has a film viewing room, computer, offices, conference area, and periodical room. The library's lower level is occupied by study carrels for individual use.

The school will continue to add new books and filmstrips for our use, and to update our resource materials. Thanks goes to Mr. Cassidy, and the Oxford City Board of Education for providing us such a wonderful library. We are very fortunate to have such a library and should use it as often as possible.

Thoughts Trapped In Time

Throughout the school year we surveyed the faculty of Oxford High School. We asked them if they could be "trapped in time" what year would it be and why? Many responses came in so we "captured" a few. Throughout the Faculty Section are the responses we published. Read on to find your favorite teacher's special time. You might be surprised! Very surprised!!!!

The 1960's would have been a great time to enjoy life. I was very young, then, but I have always been interested in this time. I loved the style of music during the 60's. The mores were changing and people were becoming more liberal. The Peace Movement and the rallies would have been interesting, also. Of course, a teacher in the 60's might have had a time with reprimanding his long-haired students into getting hair cuts! A. Adcock

I would love to go back to 1964. I was a Sr. in high school. I'd love to relive the state tournament in basketball, the Senior Play, Sr. Night, Jr.-Sr. Banquet, and Graduation. In the fall of '64, my dream of going to college became a reality. I enrolled at Jax State, moved in the dorm and was on my own for the first time in my life. I met my husband the second night in college at freshmen orientation. Quite naturally, he was spellbound by my charm, and he's been hanging around since then. P. Embry

In Loving Memory Of David Alan Lang

A L
F

Whenever asked what "ALF" stood for, Alan would gladly respond, " Alan Lang Friend," describing his personality clearly.

October 1, 1970 — February 21, 1988

Alan was a wiz at computer and video games, and he could be found at Moore's shooting pool or at the bowling alley in Anniston. Concert — going and listening to music " at top volume " was a recognizable characteristic about Alan. He loved playing cards, and just being with his friends.

Alan was always eager to learn new things, master them, and then move on to bigger and better things. Alan was a rare find in this day and age. He would always go the longest mile for his friends and family. If I had to pick a favorite time for Alan, it would be the time spent with his close friends, along with his many trips to Panama City. These times and his friends were very special to him.

"Live life to the fullest while you can for you never know when your time will come and God will call you home."

Peggy Lang

For Alan, With Love

In the prime of his life, he was taken from us.
He had not a chance to fight it or put up a fuss.

I know that God had a special plan that had to be
But here on earth it is so hard to see.

Alan enjoyed life to the fullest but he had to leave,
It was just his time, this is what we must believe.

His memory will go on with all his friends
Because the friendship he showed extended to all ends.

I'm sure he would tell you to "Take Care" and "Have Fun"
For the battle against life Alan has won.

SENIOR TRIBUTE

by Norma Martin

The Class of 88 is a strange one and that's the truth,
Not a close knit bunch,
but all individuals,
cliques or little groups
To quote one of the students, they seem a little
dull and quiet,
But I was asked to tell this tale and so I'll try it.
All of those early school years, not a peep, not a sound
Only one little middle school news came around
When the 5th grade class didn't watch the show
But in the dark, a kissin'
they did go.
Then another year of school days passed them by
And as the 7th grade they came on to Oxford High.
They got into the spirit of things fast
And won the spirit bell that year-more times than any class.
A few individuals let us know they were out — standing
Like Chuck Warneke falling from the 3rd floor landing.
As 8th graders an impression on all of us was made When their apple squashing lunchroom behavior got us into today's teacher led parade
They did have some winners and recognition was made As Jr. High Homecoming queen they provided in 7th and 8th grades.
And the 7th and 8th grade
football team
Become the state champs
on the scene.
Ninth and tenth grade
seemed to pick up pace
And you heard of students
all over the place.
Rookies at band camp passed the torture test
Like Brent Lambert and Mike Roberts and the rest.
Jennifer McWhorter's band life has been unusual
they say Because she was always hit or hurt and getting
"carried away".
Katrina Menefee was the one to wreck the driver
ed car in a close call
And the B-team football players never won a game at all.
The Junior year they really seemed to go a little wild
And we wondered what happened to the nice quiet child.
Chemistry class experience became quite exciting
As Kim Parris's hair or Donte McGrue's fires were igniting.

Automobiles became a part of daily life
And for many they were a source of personal strife.
Vicki Coley and Julie Townsend were caught speeding to school
And Lori Cloud being hit by a fork lift was a new tool
Tina Foster had her car mysteriously moved one day.
And Mike Saumure licked
his keys up every pos — sible way.
Kristie Parker's car was hit down in the parking lot
And I'm sure the police have many more records than I got —
The class enjoyed having the first foreign student exchanged.
And Karin Gordon's year
in Finland was arranged.
David Deshler won his prize of pizza for a year
But not every student had such good luck we hear.
Spanish convention called Rhett Pollard and Daniel
Roper
But they had a rather expensive game of strip poker.
Ball players in spring
thought jamboree meant Bar B Q
And several of them were suspended for a day or two.
Surprise came along even at Spring Choral Concert night
When a sudden rapping group took over the mike.
Rick Ray came in June
to see his friends graduate.
And looked in a ditch
over by the parking lot gate.
The girls softball team
to the state playoffs went — one and all
And added a close shave
to the head of coach Ball.
The prom sent everyone
to a Night In The Orient.
And Demetric Johnson was a champion wrestler
— that was evident.
The Senior year is now only ten weeks old
But there are a few things that need to be told.
School opened with com — puters that were new.
And a new library will be great — if we ever get a view.

Science labs hopefully are about completed
too.
And the school will have been renovated for me
and you.
And those 11 years
that seemed to move
as slow
Have brought you here —
and these Sr. years
really go.
And football season is drawing to an end.
This year the new Black Death and Moving Company appeared.
And Belinda Ackles has led us as we cheered Shane Luker is the only player to have a personal group of fans
And Shannon Spivey has fallen form several football stands.
The one thing that seemed to make this class unite Was the destruction of their Homecoming float —
and they were all ready to fight.
Some Friday classes were missed and the float was restored
Which happened to be judged
the best by one accord.
Gina Turner resigned as the Sr. High Queen.
But Doug and Ray in their even gowns made the parade scene.
Batman and Robin zoomed down the road, too
And Klye McCoy's gorilla escaped from the zoo.
And who's to say what will become of this little group
As the Sr. year is completed and out in to the world they troup.
Surely the Bad Boys may become good guys
And Joel Cunningham will rid the world of all the Communist spys
Biff, Ship, and the Sufer
Dudds may get albums
on the chart.
And Pete Mackey, may end up breaking Tracy's heart.
Shonda Petroff and her boy friend may give up the fights
And Gidget Barker may not see any more flashing lights.
Time alone will hold the key to all their fate
But where they go they will always know —
We are fine, We are great,
We're the class of 88

SOPHOMORES

This year the sophomore class has spent a lot of TIME getting in trouble. It started with guys in a roar as the first 10th grade girl made her entrance into autobody class. Then getting into trouble for leading our own cheers. Some students brought in their own lunch courtesy of the local fast food restaurants. Before they knew it they were assigned to sit with their classes at lunch. When some of the students were asked to describe this year they said, "It was great . . . only two years left and the best is yet to come." Or as one student said, "It was just another splinter as we slide down the bannister of life."

We are strong
We are mighty
We're the class of 1990

REFLECTIONS FROM 1988 "We're no longer at the bottom of the totem pole."

"We finally can use our combinations to get our locker open instead of using our feet."

"We can push the seventh graders around"

A great athlete has something extra.
So does a great bank.

Most athletes develop the fundamental skills necessary to compete in their sport—strength, speed, coordination, and experience.

But the ones who stand out have something extra. A little more quickness, or savvy, or determination. Banks are the same way.

Most banks have developed the fundamental skills. But the ones who stand out, like Central, have something extra. Like extended hours, Saturday banking, or discounts on loans for qualifying customers.

Who's the winner in the long run? You are. Bank at Central for something extra in financial service.

Heavenly Father,

As we gather here this evening to recognize the graduating seniors of the class of 1988, we ask dear Lord that You might place a guiding hand on the lives and hearts of each individual and lead us as we go our separate ways. Help us to accept the responsibilities that we are now expected to bear and grant us the wisdom to make the right decisions. We thank you Lord for the many people who have been instrumental in shaping our lives through our high school years. But most of all thank you Lord for always being here when there was no one else to turn to. Go with us now, keep us safe and away from harm. For it is in Your precious name we pray. Amen.

Ann Kimsey

Once upon a time not so long ago the 1987-88 school year began. Everyone was a little reluctant to come back a week earlier than other schools, but once things got under way they went well as to be expected. Lots of new things happened this year. Getting back we saw changes that had taken place inside and out of the campus. The students were together more and they had more school spirit than ever before. Some even said, "This was the best year ever!"

The 1988 Yearbook Staff has tried to capture the mood of every event that you were a part of this year and make those precious moments last forever.

My special thanks goes out to these staff members for all the hard work, time and effort they have put forth to make the 1988 Yellow Jacket as unique as the year itself.

Also I would like to give many thanks to Mrs. Nelson, who with out her dedication of hard work and many after hours our deadlines would not have been met. (I don't know what we would do without you Aunt B!)

Lastly a big thank you goes out to the people who have gone out of their way to help us throughout the year. To Mr. Higgins and the office workers for their patience and cooperation. To Mr. Berryhill and Graphic Arts for all the work they did in producing some great background layouts amidst all our confusion. To Hewitt Studios for all the fabulous photography work.

To Midweek for the help they gave us in producing our pictures just in the nick of time, and Jim Robbins and Taylor Publishing Company with out whom the production of the book would not be possible.

I hope the 1988 Yellow Jacket is everything you anticipated it to be. In closing I want to leave you with this last thought: Remember there is no time like the present, live life to the fullest and never settle for second best!
